Also, TS Education now offers a L1 & L2 recognised gymnastics qualification.

How can we improve the delivery of PE to make sure learners reach their full potential?

That's the question TS Education Services is committed to resolving. Working in partnership with Portsmouth College, Southampton Solent University, Hampshire PE and School Sport and BallZone, the organisation provides inspirational yet affordable training for PE teaching specialists.

The aim? To improve the delivery of physical education and inspire better learning results in pupils.

TS Education Services is passionate about seeing every young person reach his or her full potential. And with years of experience in PE consultancy, they know how to make that a reality.

They work with primary schools, secondary schools, colleges, universities, coaching companies, Youth Sport Trust and The Premier League – including Chelsea and Southampton Football Clubs. With each, they support subject leaders in the management and delivery of PE covering all areas including assessment, tracking and quality assurance.

The company has recently partnered with BallZone Education, another provider of training courses for PE professionals. Like TS Education Services, BallZone is passionate about helping PE teachers develop effective teaching programmes that inspire and engage pupils.

“HIGH QUALITY, PROFESSIONAL TRAINING”

TS Education Services also understand schools' needs to satisfy Ofsted requirements. Ofsted Inspectors assess how effectively funding is being used to improve PE by making a judgement on PE staff qualifications and the provision of professional training to help improve their skills.
